

VACATION IS NEARLY OVER; NOW FOR FASHIONS FOR SCHOOL GIRLS

Suits for Morning and Afternoon, on Norfolk Lines in Tweed or Serge; And a Word on Sport Clothes; Big Demand for the One-Piece Frock; Latest in the Gym Clothes; a Word or Two on Her Evening Clothes!

(Special to the Yuma Daily Examiner)

New York, Sept. 7.—Vacation's over! The Pattys and Julias and Sallys are coming from everywhere—mountain, shore and far-away homes, with pretty frocks and bright alert brains ready to absorb all the learning possible between now and next summer. The time has come for Latin, Greek, geometry and incidentally fudge parties, candy pulls and midnight lunches, not included in the regular curriculum, therefore far more fascinating, and, of course, basket-ball and the various other gymnasium stunts to help out the physical and mental machinery.

Bretelle Frock of Serge

The Morning Walk

Our streets are gay with them in the early morning; those bright faced happy schoolgirls. They stride by in smart, high-heeled shoes, Norfolk suits of tweed or serge, set off by chic velvet tams, hats of velour or a softly colored felt. As the days are still bright and warm, one often sees a trim serge frock with bretelles, worn with a blouse of contrasting crepe de Chine, or one of the brightly striped or dotted voiles. Our exclusive schools frown upon an elaborate wardrobe, no matter how prosperous papa may be; many of them give out a list of the clothing required, with one thing uppermost—simplicity. This does not necessarily mean that the clothing must be ugly. The smart little suits and dresses of serge, tweed, or the attractive checks and novelty fabrics with contrasting collars and cuffs, are smart and becoming to a degree. One particularly smart little dress, worn the other morning, was of dark blue gabarine, that practical sister of the serge, which wears so well and sheds dust and dirt so effectively. It had bretelles and a wide stitched belt of the material of the skirt and was worn with an underblouse of herringbone striped crepe de Chine, cuffed with the material of the skirt and collared with sheer, crisp organdy. The wearer, who was a smart New York day-school girl, carried her bundle of books nonchalantly over one shoulder and wore her velvet tam on the back of her bright hair so carelessly that more than I turned for a second look.

The Second Suit

On matinee days and Sundays the suit is a trifle more dressy, of French serge, gabardine, broadcloth, or one of the new satin finished materials, and is trimmed with a line or two of braid or a band of fun. An attractive hat of velvet, or satin and velvet with the soft, drooping brim, now so modish, and just a suggestion of trimming, is most becoming to young girls. The soft, graceful tilt to the brim this season is particularly pretty and youthful. An attractive little Miss from the southland, whose eyes are as dark as the oft quoted Spanish maiden's wore a suit of midnight blue velours de laine with high military collar of black silk braid, inset, between the rows of braid, with scarlet and gold; the scarlet and gold was repeated in the carved buttons which closed the coat, Russian fashion, on the left shoulder, in the braided girdle, and again heading the hem of the short, full skirt. With this suit, which was worn one afternoon at a concert, she wore a very simple blouse or baby-flesh pink Georgette crepe. The costume was simplicity itself, but chic, well thought out simplicity.

Top Coats, Sweaters, Gym Clothes

A warm top coat of one of the soft, light-weight coatings brought out this fall, will not come amiss in any school-girl's wardrobe; it is the handiest little thing in the world to slip on over the one-piece frock of serge or over the suit for a cross-country walk or motor trip. Our shops are showing some charmingly colored sweaters, too, for the out-of-door girl, in stripes, checks and plain materials; for the girl who likes something "different" attractive materials come by the yard, to be made up, sweater coat fashion, with any colored collar and cuffs she may desire. No school outfit is complete without a suit of bloomers of serge or light-weight flannel for basket ball, bar vaulting, and all the other gymnastics demanded of the healthy, athletic school girl of today. To wear with these sweaters and top coats there are round hats in woolen mixtures, with a short quill or stick-up by way of trimming, which defy snow, rain and all kinds of weather most satisfyingly.

Comfortable Gym Suit

Demand for the One-Piece Frock

It stands to reason that if the suit skirt is worn in the classroom, it will soon become shiny and shabby while the coat remains perfectly good; here is where the one-piece dress of serge or gabardine is most practical aside from its becomingness and convenience. There is nothing more suitable or comfortable than one of these simple frocks in some dark shade, with one of the new sashes or belts in a contrasting fabric, and collar and cuffs or perhaps a guimpe or chemisette of organdy, voile or crepe de Chine. The washable guimpe, which may be removed and laundered, appeals to many because of the possibilities it offers of freshening up the dress with a variety of guimpes.

A Word or Two on Evening Wear

One of the daintiest, most becoming frocks seen for many a season, was developed in maize colored crepe Georgette with a double skirt, a simple V-neck bodice, short sleeves and a wide sash of taffeta with hand colored ends, repeating in the large conventionalized rose design, the color of the frock combined with soft pink, and just a touch here and there of African brown by way of contrast. This frock was designed for a pretty New York girl to wear at an evening party. It was perfectly suited to the occasion and was suited also to dinners and the other social demands of the young girl who has not yet made her debut. The girl who prefers the top coat with one-piece frocks for afternoons and more dressy occasions, will find a simple frock of dark blue taffeta smart and convenient.

BACK GIVES OUT

Plenty of Yuma Readers Have This Experience

You tax the kidneys — overwork them—

They can't keep up the continual strain.

The back may give out—it may ache and pain;

Urinary troubles may set in.

Don't wait any longer—take Doan's Kidney Pills.

Residents of this vicinity endorse them.

Can Yuma people doubt the following evidence?

Mrs. A. Spann, 1646 Front St., San Diego, Cal., says: "Several years ago, I suffered from backache and it steadily got worse. I also had trouble with the kidney secretions. I didn't sleep well and felt all tired out. Doan's Kidney Pills strengthened my kidneys, removed the pains in my back and cured the other kidney disorders. A few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills once in a while keep my kidneys in good shape."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Spann had. Foster-Milburn Co. Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

PRICE FIXING

A bill is now before Congress to legalize price-fixing. It ought to pass. The government compels railways to maintain one price for all. Why prevent the manufacturer from doing the same thing? It is not one price, it is cutting the price that is the serious charge against the great trusts. By cut prices they slaughter the small dealers.

The public has an erroneous idea that price agreement is a conspiracy against the consumer. Exactly the contrary is true. Price chaos eventually injures the consumer, and meanwhile it puts the honest manufacturer out of business and encourages the cheat. Rebates, cuts, reductions belong to the past. They are business anarchy. The business of the United States ought to be on a sound basis. There is none other such than one price to all.—Dr. Frank Crane in "Chicago Daily News."
